

Fairfield Women's Golf 9 Hole Leagues

The Fairfield Women's 9 Hole Golf League is an active group of both Fairfield residents and non-residents and welcomes all interested women golfers. Members have two options for play: Monday mornings at the Carl Dickman / South Pine Creek Par 3 Course and Tuesday mornings at H. Smith Richardson Golf Course. All league members may join either or both groups. Both groups play from mid-April thru early October.

Tuesday events include Medal Play, a variety of named tournaments, Spring and Fall Shot Gun Scrambles, The Club Championship and The President's Cup. Weekly play uses handicaps and prizes are awarded by flight. FWGL also joins with 9 Hole Leagues from other area clubs to play at Invitational Tournaments. Play in the league includes USGA membership and an official GHIN handicap. For the upcoming season a number of new tournaments and social opportunities are being added. Monday events include both Medal Play and frequent named tournaments. The league includes residents and non-residents and offers a great opportunity to improve the short game and meet both new and accomplished players. A special handicap will be determined after 5 rounds at the Par 3 course – allowing for competition and prizes by handicap and flight. For more information, or to join the league, contact:
